Council of Social Concern celebrates 50 years of service providing social and educational services that have helped tens of thousands of the area's most vulnerable individuals, including at risk children, seniors, low income working parents, households experiencing food insecurity, and immigrants.

John McElhiney was past President of the Board of Directors for Council of Social Concern and was an Auctioneer for the agency's Annual Auction for 20 years. John was an extremely kind, giving and hardworking individual who embodied so many of Council of Social Concern's core values.
